

Homeopathy for Canterbury and surrounding areas

Claire Dwyer
Homeopathic Practitioner
The Old School House Homeopathic Practice
Ickham, near Canterbury

Claire Dwyer (LCHE MARH) is a qualified homeopath based in Ickham, near Canterbury. With years of practical and clinical experience successfully applying homeopathic remedies and principles, Claire is a Licentiate of the Centre for Homoeopathic Education, and a Member of the Alliance of Registered Homoeopaths. The Old School House Homeopathic Practice is ideally located, six miles from Canterbury City Centre.

Homeopathy is a safe, effective and natural alternative medical approach and is used to treat the whole body system rather than individual factors.

Homeopathic remedies can be used alongside most prescribed medication with no side-effects, and has been safely and effectively used in the UK for over 200 years and involves treatment of mind and body to restore natural balance.

At The Old School House Homeopathic Practice, near Canterbury, we use homeopathic remedies to treat a wide range of common and acute illnesses, including:

- colds, fevers, sore throats and headaches
- asthma
- eczema
- arthritis
- anxiety and mild depression

Homeopathy is a comprehensive medicinal remedy used to treat mental, emotional and physical illness.

Using the principle of “like cures like”, the Old School House Homeopathic Practice, Ickham, near Canterbury, seeks the underlying cause of a condition, acting holistically and encouraging the body’s natural defences. The speed of a patient’s recovery depends on the condition being treated, with acute illnesses often achieving resolution quicker than long-term, chronic illnesses.

Remedies are safe, non-toxic and non-addictive and aim to provide long term benefits through unique and personalised treatments.

Homeopathy can be used successfully in first aid situations, particularly around the home.

HOMEOPATHIC TREATMENTS

At The Old School House Homeopathic Practice, near Canterbury, your initial appointment will last around 1 hour in an informal, relaxed atmosphere to establish the full details and history of your condition, with a follow up appointment booked for 4-6 weeks later.

All treatments are personally tailored to each patient's needs, so no two patients will achieve exactly the same results.

There is no up-front fee to pay, and no commitment to continue your homeopathic treatment. You will not be asked to remove any items of clothing during your treatment.

The Old School House Homeopathic Practice in Ickham, near Canterbury.
Healthy medicine for a healthy life.

Please contact the Old School House Homeopathy Practice, Ickham, on Canterbury (01227) 123456 for further information or to make an appointment.